

BHJS News Bulletin

Meteorology Society: Kadoorie and Botanical Gardens

11 May 2018

To improve students' knowledge and their interest on climate change and the ecosystems of Hong Kong, the Meteorology Society visited the Kadoorie Farm and the Botanic Gardens. Visiting students were granted an opportunity observe some rare and unique kinds of animals and plant life found in Hong Kong. The docents also enriched our students' knowledge on global climate issues such as global warming and organic farming.